

THE Meaning OF THE Reformation

From Martin Luther's
Large Catechism, 1531

*Luther's Reformation
opened doors and hearts.
Come explore its meaning for today.*

Eighteenth-Annual Celebration of Reformation Day at Emory

Wednesday, October 19, 2005

All these events are free and open to the public.

- 11:00 a.m. Ian McFarland, Candler School of Theology, preacher
- Noon "Reformation and Media: Guttenberg to Google," presentation by Beth Lewis, president and CEO of Augsburg Fortress Press
- 1:15 p.m. Bach the Theologian: A musical theological preview of the evening Kessler Reformation Concert, with Timothy Albrecht, Candler School of Theology
- 2:15 p.m. Reception and book signing with Scott Hendrix, Princeton Theological Seminary, author of Recultivating the Vineyard: The Reformation Agendas of Christianization (Westminster John Knox Press, 2004)
- 3:00 p.m. "The Reformation We Have Lost," lecture by Scott Hendrix
- 8:00 p.m. Kessler Reformation Concert, Schwartz Center for Performing Arts Celebrating the arrival of Emory University's Jaeckel Op. 45 pipe organ with Timothy Albrecht; Eric Nelson, director of choral activities; the Emory University Concert Choir; and the New Trinity Baroque Orchestra

CANDLER
SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

EMORY